CIVIL ACTION NO.

DEBRA P. HACKETT, CLK
U.S. DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT ALA

Big Lots Stores, Inc.,

Defendant

Response

The defense will argue that I am out of time to sue by reason that we sent the EEOC the same evidence that I sent the first time, but on the second account I gain the right to sue Big Lots. The fact is I sent only the pictures the first time to the EEOC and they dismissed the allegations as humor. The second time I sent the EEOC the pictures, statements and dates of racial and sexual harassment offenses made by Billy Pridgen (Assistant Manager), Jerry Culpepper (Store Manager), and Gerald Michael Williams (Associate Manager). This time a person from the EEOC called and ask me about the incidents. I told her what happened and she said that the pictures were not funny and said she would be in contact with me. A week or so later I received a right to sue letter in the mail.
